From NA World Services

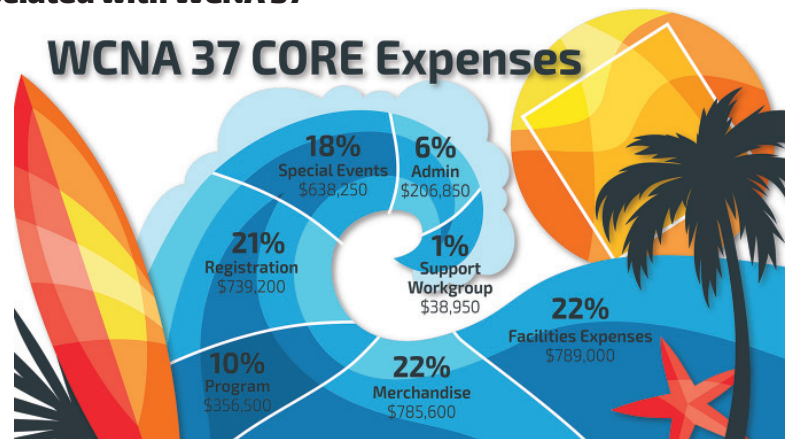

We hope you enjoy this special issue of The NA Way Magazine devoted to THE LARGEST WORLD CONVENTION EVER! We have tried to capture some of the magic of the event using fewer words and more pictures. We only wish we could share the hugs, laughs, and tears as well.

Of course, nothing can fully capture the feeling of being there—sharing more than 140 hours of workshops and forums with more than 22,500 people. We hope the magic stays with you until 2021 when we all rejoin one another in Melbourne, Australia.

Please let us know what you thought of the Convention by filling out the WCNA 37 satisfaction survey posted at www.na.org/survey by the end of November 2018.

Thank you!

The Miracle after the Magic

We were sitting at the airport Sunday morning after WCNA 37 in Orlando, Florida. Our flight was scheduled to leave at 7:00 am. As you can imagine, we had stayed up very late the night before enjoying the Convention and were operating on very little sleep. Shortly before boarding time we were informed that our flight had been delayed. This was followed by more delays and gate changes. People were getting frustrated, and some were beginning to complain out loud.

My wife said to me, "We are in a spiritual program, we need to do something. We need a meeting." It was obvious that there were several NA members in the crowd, so I looked up the readings on my phone and said, "Hey, let's have a meeting!" A few people came over and we sat together on the floor in the hallway and started the meeting. As the meeting went on, a few more people joined us, and a lot of people were walking past us in the hallway.

At some point during the meeting, a man came over and sat down. When it was his turn to share, he explained that he was new to the program and had really been struggling to stay clean. He had been sitting at another gate by himself waiting for his flight. He said that usually when he wanted to use he would go to a meeting, but since he was stuck at the airport and could not go to a meeting, he was going to the bar.

When he walked by us he heard us sharing. He said to himself, "No way," but he turned around and came back. He stood nearby looking out the window, listening to us until he knew that this was indeed an NA meeting. As he was sharing, we all looked at each other in disbelief with tears in our eyes. When he finished, we all applauded and hugged him and thanked him for joining us.

Our flight was eventually canceled. My wife and I ended up renting a vehicle with three other people we had met in our impromptu meeting and drove 15 hours, all night long, to get home. It was an amazing journey. Several times we talked about the miracle we had witnessed, and how we, along with the other people in the meeting, will never forget it!

World Unity Day

Many thousands of recovering addicts from around the world came together for the closing meeting of the World Convention of Narcotics Anonymous 37! Below are the video connections that provided "shout-outs" live during the meeting.

"Hello, my name is ___ and I am an addict. There are 260 members here, and we are glad to be a part of the Unity Day meeting at WCNA 37. I was first introduced to recovery in a rehab facility in the free world. I didn't want to actually get clean at the time; I wanted to get out of a prison sentence. But some of the sayings I heard stuck with me. When I found myself with a longer prison sentence, and when I actually wanted to get clean, I remembered those sayings. For me it was 'don't pick up no matter what' and 'just for today.' I'm thankful for God and the Narcotics Anonymous program for being there when I actually wanted help. There was a time when I couldn't imagine my life without drugs. Now I know the miracle of recovery. This program works, and results count in recovery. I have been clean since February 2nd, 2007, and these last eleven years, clean and incarcerated, have been better than the last years I spent free and high. So, as we say at the end of every meeting, 'It works if you work it, so work it cuz you're worth it.'"

First NA Women's Convention
Buenos Aires, Argentina

Most California prisons utilized the video connection for the closing meeting of WCNA 37. They also asked that the stream include the American Sign Language interpreter for deaf addicts who would be in the meeting.

Magic Does Not Need Tricks

The spiritual magnitude of seeing more than 22,000 addicts in recovery from all over the world is something it will be very difficult to forget.

My HP has given me the gift to attend seven World Conventions since the year 2000, when the World Convention was held in the city where I live. All seven Conventions were incredible, but WCNA 37, where we celebrated 65 years as a Fellowship, was unquestionably the most diverse and had the most complete program.

The workshops, the auditorium, the logistics, the speakers, the emotions of the online connections from groups all over the world, including members inside correctional institutions during the Unity Day meeting, shows how big we are. All of this is driven by the principles and the primary purpose of carrying our message to the addicts who still suffer. To see 1,100 newcomers with their badges and the opened hearts of those who attended and those who were responsible for such a magnificent convention shows that it is not necessary to have tricks to make real magic.

Thank you, thank you, thank you!!!!
The magic is real because of the genius of our message.

Gustavo De R, Cartagena, Colombia

Honest Addict

I was truly blessed to be able to attend the WCNA 37 in Orlando, Florida. From start to finish, it was simply the work of my Higher Power.

A friend and I started planning the trip as soon as we found out the World Convention would be in Orlando. In the last month of preparation my friend canceled, and I ended up going with a home group member. She was the best travel buddy I could have had. We went together like peanut butter and jelly! I drove and she navigated and provided music and snacks. It was a perfect trip.

At the Convention, while we were leaving a workshop, my friend picked up my bag behind me and asked if I was leaving it. She also ran through the huge convention center to get into registration before the 6:00 pm deadline. She called to tell me that they were staying open later. I was moving more slowly, and when I arrived at the registration doors, I was told they were closed and would reopen at 8 am. I was tired and ready to cry! Suddenly, I heard the attendant's walkie-talkie say REGISTRATION IS STAYING OPEN! He opened the doors and let us in. I got in and picked up my registration. My friend noticed I wasn't given my badges. I quickly stepped back in and got them. I was so thankful and was hollering down the escalator, "Don't leave before the miracle happens!"

Our other home group members arrived on Friday. I wanted to help everyone with food costs and brought the fixings for spaghetti with me. But we needed to go to the grocery store for ingredients to make a salad. I had collected money from the people we were sharing the condo with, and I had $600 on me. When we left the grocery store, my friend was about 30 seconds behind me. I pulled the car keys out of my pocket and put the groceries in the trunk. When we got back to the condo, I checked my pocket and realized the money was gone. I checked my wallet. Not there. I was freaking out. This was money for bills that were waiting at home. I checked everywhere again, and it was nowhere to be found. I thought for a minute and realized that it must have fallen out when I pulled out the keys. I immediately prayed, "God, please let an honest addict find it!" I knew the city was full of them. I screamed upstairs to my friend. I said, "We have to go back to the store! I have lost $600!" She came down the stairs, walked across the room, and handed me the money! I could not believe it. She had picked up the money. She had not seen me drop it and I had not seen her pick it up. She said she really thought she had hit a bit of luck and was calling her sponsor to see what to do when I started hollering!

Needless to say, she was the best travel buddy I could have possibly had, and I am glad she was the "honest addict" I had prayed for.

Blown Away

This was my first World Convention, and it was truly inspiring, breathtaking, and emotional in so many ways! To see all those addicts joined together from all over the world—ooooh weeee! Everyone was so kind, caring, and loving. I was hugging everyone! The readings spoken in all those different languages blew me away. To be a part of this was incredible. I met people from all over and will be keeping in touch with them. The whole Convention was amazing from the beginning to the very end! Thank you to everyone for putting this together for us. It was a large task to fulfill, and you all did it!

Goals set for Australia—it can be done!

2018 Membership Survey

Every three years we attempt to gather information about our members, and the time to gather that information is now! Some may wonder why we want this information and how we use it. One of the aims of “A Vision for NA Service” is that NA be viewed as a “viable program of recovery.” With members from several countries attending the World Convention in Orlando, Florida, and members around the world participating from their homes, we have an opportunity to demonstrate that we are, indeed, a viable and respected recovery community resource. Presenting ourselves in this way helps us offer hope to others that they, too, can recover. We encourage each member to spread the word of the Membership Survey to their friends. We would like as many members throughout NA worldwide to participate as possible.

Our Public Image

I asked a camera operator at the main meeting what he thought about us. He smiled widely and said this was the most fun he had ever had at work. His company normally does business functions with a person either selling a product or selling themselves, he said. He spoke about how real we are and how impressed he was with us and our Fellowship.

Right Place, Right Time

I am at the WCNA 37 banquet. An old friend who moved away about a year ago visits my table. She has 24 years clean, but she tells me she is lonely and having trouble fitting in with her new NA community. I tell her to jump into service to help with the transition. A while later, I am in the restroom and a woman thanks me for sharing at a workshop earlier that day. We start talking, and I learn that she has 22 years clean and lives near where my old friend now lives. I immediately ask if I can share her number with my friend, and of course, she says yes! I take a selfie of us to give to my friend. It took the next half hour to track down my friend at her banquet table to share the news with her. She was so thankful. It was one of those moments of events aligning so perfectly. I love NA.

Beth A, Florida, USA

The NA Way Magazine area at WCNA 37 was a place to take a break from the crowd. You could e-subscribe to our periodicals, Just for Today daily emails, and NAWS Updates. You could also contribute to The NA Way by being a Roving Reporter, sharing your recovery magic with the rest of the Fellowship, creating beautiful NA Way coloring pages, participating in an NA Way Reader Survey, and taking home one-of-a-kind NA Way- and WCNA-related memorabilia.

The online survey is here if you would like to contribute: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/NAWay>.

SERVICE CENTER

For the first time in WCNA history, we had a series of member-led interactive service workshops we called the Keep Giving Back Track. These sessions included many service-related topics that were relevant for all levels of NA service.

A few of these sessions were extensions of topics that are part of our ongoing web meetings. Web meetings are a great way to gather information and share experiences on service-related topics. Visit www.na.org/webinar for more information.

Some of the discussions in the web meetings have resulted in new tools. The new tools can be found here:

- Phoneline Basics [www.na.org/PR]
- CBDM Basics [www.na.org/toolbox]
- The Program Committee & Development of the Program [www.na.org/conventions]

Mental Health/ Mental Illness IP Project

We test-drove workshops on the three 2018–2020 Issue Discussion Topics at the World Convention:

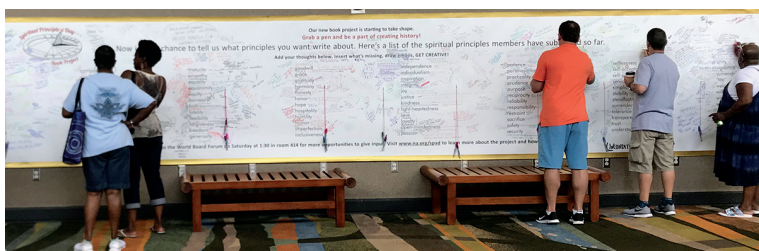

- Carrying the NA Message and Making NA Attractive
- Attracting Members to Service
- Drug Replacement Therapy (DRT) and Medication Assisted Treatment (MAT) as It Relates to NA

After a bit of fine-tuning, we've posted PowerPoints, handouts, and workshop outlines at www.na.org/idt. Please send the results of your workshops to worldboard@na.org.

We also had workshops on our two literature projects.

For the Spiritual Principle a Day Book Project, there were 284 pages of material written during the workshop! Please consider submitting your experience of living by spiritual principles. Visit www.na.org/spad for more details, workshop materials, and to submit through an online form.

The Mental Health/Mental Illness Informational Pamphlet also had a workshop. You can find more information on that here: www.na.org/mhmi.

Spiritual Principle a Day Book Project banner where members added principles that they wanted included in the book.

At the request of the 2018 World Service Conference, we will be having special days that will be similar to what we do now with Unity Day. We encourage you all to consider and discuss how your community would like to celebrate these days.

Sponsorship Day is 1 December 2018
Service Day is 1 May 2019
PR Week will be first week of June 2019

If you have any ideas for activities related to these, please send your comments to worldboard@na.org.
