GETTING ADDICTS TO MEETINGS

- Meeting info is easy to find
- Meeting lists are printable (think of professionals giving addicts a printed list)
- The meeting page is user-friendly (no acronyms and non-geographic labels)
  - For new members
  - For current members
  - For professionals (who use common city and county names to find meetings)

COMMON WEBSITE CHALLENGES

- Meeting info not prominent
- Out of date meeting info
- Only a map interface (doesn't work if you're searching from outside the area)
- Data integrity (inconsistencies, spelling or grammar errors)
- Broken links
- Programming not working
- Acronyms!

EXAMPLES OF LOCAL WEBSITES

- Chesapeake and Potomac Region
- Mountain Area

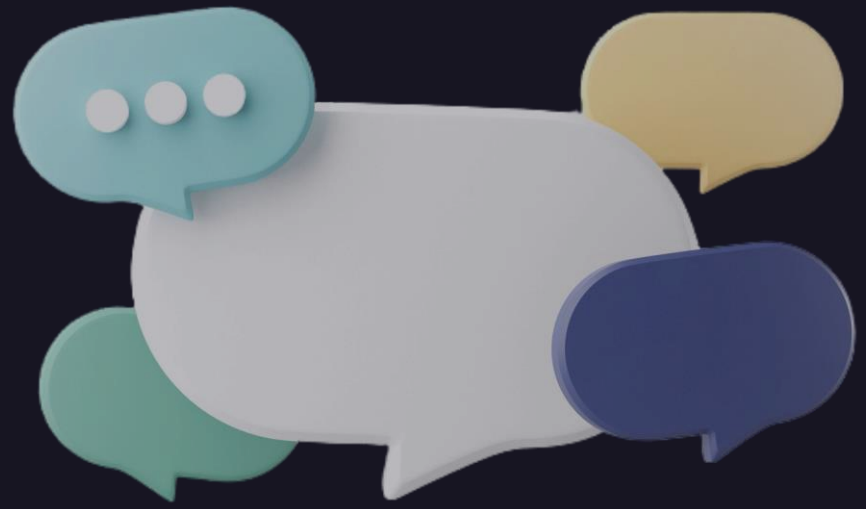
WHAT GETS IN THE WAY OF COMPLETE MEETING LIST INFORMATION

Cutting meetings from the list if not represented at Area

Cutting meetings from the list because of ideological battles

Service bodies with boundaries that are not intuitive

LET'S DISCUSS



- What else can get in the way of complete meeting list information?
- What are some of the spiritual principles that can guide us when listing meetings?
- What are some best practices that those spiritual principles give rise to?

WHAT SHOULD BE ON A FLYER

- Clear information
- It should be clear it is an NA event or NA meeting
- It should have
  - the location
  - the meeting or event name
  - enough description to know what kind of event it is and who is hosting/sponsoring
- If posted online, include town and state or country
